

Key Features

of Lifetime Cover

Important information you need to read

The Financial Services Authority is the independent financial services regulator. It requires us, Scottish Widows, to give you this important information to help you decide whether our Lifetime Cover benefit is right for you. You should read this document carefully so that you understand what you are buying, and then keep it safe for future reference.

Lifetime Cover is a type of benefit available under our Protection for Life plan.

For each benefit you choose under the plan, we'll set up a policy that is legally separate from any others in the plan with its own key features and policy provisions.

These Key Features should be read with the enclosed quotation.

Its aims

- To pay out a cash sum on death. The cash sum ("benefit" amount) can be level or increasing.

Your commitment

- To pay monthly premiums for this benefit by Direct Debit until you reach age 90. See "What do I have to pay?".
- To provide us with all relevant information, including medical details, to the best of your knowledge and belief. If you don't do this, we might not pay out.
- To tell us if there is any change to your personal health, family history, occupation, participation in any hazardous leisure activities, travel or residence between completing the application process and the start of this benefit. If you don't do this, we might not pay out.

Risks

- There's no cash-in value at any time.
- We might not pay out in certain circumstances – see "What will stop this benefit paying out?" for more details.
- If you don't pay your premiums on time, this benefit will stop and you'll get nothing back.
- If your circumstances change, the benefit amount you've chosen may not be sufficient to meet your needs. You should regularly review your benefit amount.
- Over the course of the policy the amount you pay in premiums may exceed the benefit amount.

For policies with a benefit amount of £15,000 or less:

- if you die within 2 years of the start of the policy and an early death exclusion applies, we won't pay the benefit amount unless your death is an Accidental Death as defined in provision 3 and 4 of the policy provisions. We will return any premiums that have been paid under the policy instead. See "What will stop this benefit paying out?" for more details.

Questions & Answers

What are the options available?

 30 days' Free Accidental Death Cover might apply to you while we are considering your application for Lifetime Cover. You can see its terms and conditions in the 30 Days' Free Accidental Death Cover leaflet. You can ask us for a leaflet if you don't already have one.

How does an increasing benefit amount work?

- When you take out this benefit, you can choose to automatically increase your benefit amount each year in line with the Retail Prices Index (RPI). The increases will be at least 2% up to a maximum of 10%.
- Your premiums will also automatically increase, but at a higher rate than the increase in benefit amount. This is explained in provision 3 of the policy provisions.
- You can decline an automatic increase for a year, but if you decline the increase two years in a row, automatic increases will stop.

Jargon buster

The Retail Prices Index is a measure of the level of price inflation in the UK. It measures inflation by calculating the average increase in the prices of a broad basket of goods and services on a month by month basis.

How flexible is this benefit?

At any time you can ask us to:

- top-up or reduce your benefit amount,
- add or remove a policy owner.

We may need more information about you, such as further medical details. If we agree to your request, we'll tell you how it affects your benefit – for example, your premiums may change.

What will stop this benefit paying out?

- We might not pay out if you don't:
 - provide us with all relevant information, or
 - tell us about any changes before the start of your benefit as described in 'Your commitment'.

- In general, we won't pay a claim if we don't receive the proof that we need about the events resulting in the claim. We might not pay a claim if we don't have authorisation to obtain medical information about you.

We may add further limits or exclusions to your policy. If we do, we'll tell you about them before you make your decision to go ahead with the benefit.

- For policies with a benefit amount of £15,000 or less:
 - If an early death exclusion is applied to the policy we won't pay the benefit amount if the life assured dies within 2 years of the policy starting, unless it is an Accidental Death as defined in the policy provisions. We will return any premiums that have been paid under the policy instead.

Please see provisions 3 and 4 of your policy provisions for more details.

What other options can I have with this benefit?

Premium Protection

Note: Premium Protection cannot be chosen for policies with a benefit amount of £15,000 or less.

Before this benefit starts you can choose, at an extra cost, to include Premium Protection for it. This option means that after 26 weeks we'll start to pay your premiums for this benefit if you suffer a Disability.

There are three different definitions of Disability. Only one definition will be relevant to you and we'll tell you which one when you apply.

Definition 1 – Own Occupation

"Disability" means due to sickness or accident you are totally unable to follow the occupation from which you last derived any earnings before the start of disability (if there was more than one it will be that from which the largest part of those earnings was derived), and you are not doing any other occupation for payment or profit.

Definition 2 – Suited Occupation

“Disability” means due to sickness or accident you are totally unable to follow:

- The occupation from which you last derived any earnings before the start of disability (if there was more than one it will be that from which the largest part of those earnings was derived), and
- Any other occupation for which we reasonably consider you suited taking into account your education, training and experience, and you are not doing any other occupation for payment or profit.

Definition 3 – Activities of Daily Work

“Disability” means any sickness or accident which

- (a) prevents you from doing, even with the use of appropriate assistive devices, at least two out of six activities of daily work (“ADWs”) without the assistance of another person, or
- (b) causes mental failure.

The six ADWs are:

- (i) Hearing
- (ii) Lifting
- (iii) Speech
- (iv) Using a pen, pencil or keyboard
- (v) Vision
- (vi) Walking

If either Definition 1 – Own Occupation or Definition 2 – Suited Occupation is stated to apply to the policy and you are working less than 16 hours a week before the start of the disability and you are not self-employed, then Definition 3 – Activities of Daily Work will apply instead.

We’ll continue paying the premiums for you until:

- you’re able to return to work, or
- you reach the age of 66, or
- the benefit ends,

whichever is sooner.

It’s best if you tell us about your sickness or accident within 13 weeks of it starting or happening. Please see provision 5 of the policy provisions for further details of Premium Protection including the exclusions that apply and what we mean by “occupation”, “mental failure” and the six ADWs.

We may add further limits or exclusions for this option. If we do, we’ll tell you about them before you make your decision to go ahead with this benefit.

What do I have to pay?

- The actual premiums you pay for this benefit will depend on, for example:
 - the amount and basis of cover you choose,
 - your age and sex,
 - your health,
 - whether or not you smoke or use nicotine replacements, and
 - how many other benefits you have in your Protection for Life plan.
- The initial premium payable for this benefit is shown on the accompanying quotation. If you have other benefits in your plan, it will also show a discount for having more than one benefit.
- Premiums for this benefit no longer need to be paid once you reach age 90, however the benefit will continue.
- The premiums for this benefit and any others in your plan, are payable monthly by Direct Debit.
- If we pay out under this benefit, your premiums for it will stop, it will end and nothing further will be paid out.

What are the charges?

- Our charges cover the cost of commission, expenses, profit and any other adjustments. They are included in the total cost you pay for the benefit, detailed in the quotation.

What about tax?

- Under current tax rules, any cash sum paid out under the benefit will be free of personal income tax and capital gains tax.
- If the cash sum forms part of your estate, inheritance tax may be payable on it and you may want to consider putting this benefit, or others, in trust. Please ask your Scottish Widows Direct Adviser about this. You should also consider speaking to your solicitor.
- Tax rules may change in the future.

Can I change my mind?

- You can change your mind about starting this benefit within 30 days of receiving your cancellation notice for it. If you do, you'll get back any money you have paid for it.
- If you don't cancel your benefit within the 30 day period, it will continue.
